The Queensland Kendo Renmei
Digital Imaging and Photography Policy

The Queensland Kendo Renmei (QKR), supports the use digital media to promote the benefits of Kendo Iaido and Jodo. The QKR has in the interest of its members created a framework to govern the use of such material on its digital platforms.

In dealing with photographic and other digital material the QKR follows the rules and strategies as lay down in child safe sport section of play by the rules as well as relevant state regulations.

The full document of Play by the Rules can be found here
Additional guidelines provided by Queensland legal aid can be found here

It should also be noted that Queensland government venues have their own requirements for the use of their facilities which among other things covers the use of photographic media.
A list of these conditions can be found here

The information provided by the QKR is in this document does NOT constitute legal advice or opinion If a member has concerns regarding their privacy, they are to advised to seek information from a legal professional.

The QKR will do all in its power to ensure that the dignity and privacy of its members is maintained and not brough into question.

The QKR will require written consent from the member or members concerned whose photographs or video images will be uploaded to the QKR website or other media channels controlled by the QKR.

In the case of minors, the written consent of the minor's guardian or parent is required prior to any photographic or video material being loaded uploaded to the QKR website or other media channels controlled by the QKR.

The renmei states that this material is used only to promote the activities of the Queensland Kendo Renmei and to further develop the skills of its members.

No names or personal details will be included or attached to the photography, video or other such digital material which the renmei publishes on its website or other media channels.

Should a member requests that images or other digital media in which they can be identified be removed from QKR website or other media channels over which the QKR has control, the renmei will comply with the request in a timely manner and will subsequently remove the material concerned from its website or other media channels.

The Queensland Kendo Renmei cannot however control the copying or redistributing of material to sites beyond its control and members are to be informed of this fact at the time of signing the consent form